

Your Safety

Your safety is very important, and we will do our best to provide a safe environment for our services and supports.

We have a system to manage incidents, so we know what to do in an emergency.

If there are hazards, we will fix them or find someone who can fix them.

We will make sure your supports are free from violence, abuse, neglect, exploitation and discrimination.

We have training to make sure we know what to do and how we can avoid accidents or incidents.

We have background checks to make sure our staff are the right people for the job.

Speak up!

The NDIS Quality & Safeguards Commission is there if you have any concerns about our services or any other provider's services.
